COLD WEATHER BUT CUBS WIN

Battle Royal At The South Side Park, Chicago, In Cold, Raw Atmosphere.

THE FIGHT IS ON

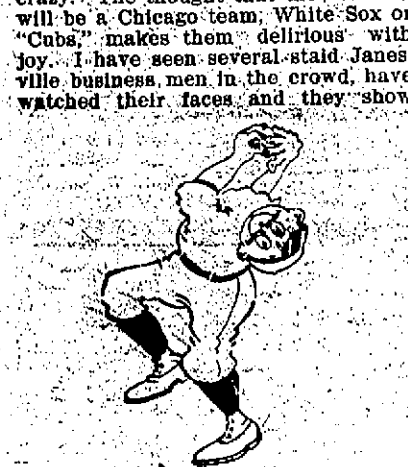

White Sox Versus the Cubs—
West Siders Invade the South Side Grounds With Their Mob of Howling Rooters.

(Special by A. D.)
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 10.—Yesterday's victory of the Sox has just whetted the appetites of the "fans," and the crowd today at the South Side park, the home of the Americans and replete with the fragrance of the ever present "stock yards," is howling approval of every good play. Sympathy for mistakes is lost and the fair-weather pop boys and hisses and cries of disapproval are heard at intervals.

Looks into Crowd.
One sits in the press stand and looks over the vast field and the thousands of persons who have transformed bleachers, grand stands, boxes and ground into a moving sea of black, and wonders where they all come from. Chicago is certainly baseball crazy. The thought that the "chams" will be a Chicago team, White Sox or "Cubs," makes them "delirious" with joy. I have seen several staid Janesville business men in the crowd, have watched their faces and they show

REUBACH AT WORK.
Just as much enthusiasm as they would were the teams home aggregations. Janesville has added its mite to the great mass of humanity that is watching the game of games—baseball.

Cheer the Players.
While the teams warmed up shortly after two the crowd cheered each individual. The "stock yard" rooters were in evidence and their lung power was something wonderful. Nor were the friends of the Cubs lacking in numbers and enthusiasm. "Nick" Altrock, the southpaw, was cheered to an echo when he stepped into the arena of the vast amphitheatre. So was Sullivan, who by the way, is an old Rock county boy we used to see playing ball in back lots up at Evansville and Edgerton. He is the same Sullivan only he looked finer and more majestic after his work of yesterday.

"DOC" WHITE AND HIS ARM.

Talked Dope.
It is amusing to listen to the dope being turned out by the pencil pushers in the press stand. "The Sox have only to win today's game and the odds will be two to one in their victory."

"It will have to be four straight for the Cubs now." "Tannerhill may be on the bench." "He is too good a man to lose." "I hear George Davis is to be back in tomorrow's game." "What will they do with Robe?" He made good over on the West side, and the conversation goes on. The crowd began coming early this morning. When I reached the grounds at twelve thirty there was a howling good natured pushing crowd trying to get in. There is room for everyone so the good nature will continue until the end.

Same Weather.
I might say right here that the weather is no better than yesterday. While the sun is shining brightly, the temperature is lower and the cold north wind sweeps over the grand stand, making it seem like a blast from the polar regions. The crowd is prepared for this emergency and overcoats, blankets and foot-warmers are to be found. The chill atmosphere has decreased the attendance considerably and several thousand will stay away, so that room is assured for all who wish to see the second of the greatest of world series.

Betting Talk.
I have heard much betting talk. The odds this afternoon are even money on the series. Several good-sized wagers went down on this figure and it is probable that more will be wagered after this afternoon's game. Bets on the separate games are also being made. The Board of Trade ring appears to have lost no confidence in their favorites, the "Cubs," but are not so rash on the odds as they were before yesterday's game.

Teams Arrive.
The teams have just finished warming up and Captain Jones and Captain Chance are having their little chat with the "umps" preparatory to the starting of the big game. The weather is cold and raw but the crowd appears to be able to keep warm, only the pop boys are not pleased. One can see the vendors of the pictures selling the "Cubs," the "White Sox," "Pick the Winner," and otherwise annoying the public that wants baseball and wants it bad. They are off. The rest will be merely bulletins.

The Batteries.
South Side Park, Chicago, 2:15 p. m.—It has just been announced that "Doc" White will pitch for the White Sox with our own Sullivan again behind the bat. The mobs cheer this announcement, both Cubs and Sox enthusiasts. Reubach and Kling are the two points for the Cubs. One man near me has just said, "This wind will play all Hob with White. He will be blown away."

The Lineup.
Nationals..... White Stockings.
Hofman..... Jones
Schuchard..... Dougherty
Schulte..... Hahn
Stink..... Donohue
Tinker..... Robe
Evers..... Tannehill
Kling..... Isbell
Reubach..... Sullivan
Umpires—O'Loughlin and Johnstone.

Nationals Score.
South Side Park, Chicago, 2:45.—The first inning resulted in no scores but in the second bad judgment and good hits brought in three runs for the Nationals, before the Sox caught their gait again. The Sox failed to score.

Once More Again.
South Side Park, Chicago, 3:15 p. m.—One more score was added to the Nationals' tally sheet in the third inning. The crowd is grim and determined on the White Sox side and howling like mad every good play on the Cubs' benches.

The Fourth Inning.
South Side Park, Chicago, 3:20 p. m.—The fourth inning developed no runs for either team. All the players are showing determination and vim in the game.

The Sox Score.
South Side Park, Chicago, 3:30.—The fifth inning the Nationals made nothing, the Americans one.

Nationals Again.
South Side Park, Chicago, 3:45.—Nationals 1, Americans 0.

No Runs in Seventh.
South Side Park, Chicago, Seventh inning—no runs.

Eighth Inning.
South Side Park, Chicago, Eighth inning—Nationals, 2; Americans, 1.

Final Score.
Nationals, 7; Americans, 1.

BELOIT WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR STATE PRESIDENCY

Mrs. C. A. Emerson Prominently Mentioned
For Head Of Wisconsin Clubs—
Convention At Wausau Opens.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Wausau, Wis., Oct. 10.—The annual convention of the Wisconsin State Federation of Women's Clubs was called to order in the First Methodist church at 9:30 o'clock this morning by Mrs. Edgar P. Sawyer, the state president. The church was elaborately decorated. Several hundred delegates and visiting club women were present. Mayor Duncan, speaking for the city and Mrs. A. L. Kreutzer, on behalf of the local clubs, made addresses of welcome, to which response for the visitors was delivered by Mrs. C. A. Emerson of Beloit. Mrs. Emerson thanked the women of Wausau for the cordial greetings extended to the visiting clubwomen and complimented the local clubs as models. The sessions began this morning will continue until Saturday, the business of the convention being liberally interspersed with features of social entertainment. Educational and civic matters will form the principal topics of addresses and discussions. An innovation in the program will be the "President's session," Friday, when the retiring president will make her address and when Mrs. J. J. Washburn, president of the Minnesota federation, will speak also. A warm though friendly rivalry exists for the presidency in succession to Mrs. Sawyer, whose two-year term expires with the present convention. Prominent among those mentioned for the honor are Mrs. Fanny Galloway of Eau Claire, Mrs. E. E. Teetsch of Green Bay, Mrs. C. J. Medbury of Fond du Lac, and Mrs. C. A. Emerson of Beloit.

MISSION BOARD HONORS HAYSTACK CENTENNIAL

Great Work In Foreign Countries Was Started
By Five Men As They Took Refuge
From Storm.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Williamstown, Mass., Oct. 10.—On the spot where, one hundred years ago, five earnest young Christians huddled beneath a haystack during a rainstorm and engaged in a discussion that led to the formation of the American Board of Foreign Missions, there gathered today a notable array of mission workers and others who assembled to pay homage to the memory of Samuel J. Mills and his four associates, James Richards, Francis L. Robbins, Byram Green and Harvey Loomis, who started the missionary movement that today covers the globe with a network of stations. It was the second day of the annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and it was especially set aside for the program as Haystack Centennial Day. The meeting of the board is being held this week in the neighboring city of North Adams. But it was thought appropriate that the centennial celebration should be held in Williamstown, the seat of Williams College, of which institution the five young founders of the board were students. In commemoration of the Haystack meeting, a handsome marble monument has been erected and it was here that the exercises of today were begun with an early morning prayer meeting. The prayer meeting was followed by academic services in the Thompson Memorial of Williams College. The program included an address of welcome by President Hopkins, an address by President Tucker of Dartmouth College, and the bestowal of degree upon some of the prominent missionaries in attendance. This afternoon interesting open-air services were held in Mission park. Among the speakers were eminent divines representing the Baptist, Presbyterian and Reformed denominations. The evening exercises will be transferred to North Adams. The invited speakers include President Henry C. King of Oberlin College, John R. Mott of the Student Volunteer Movement, and Prof. Harlan P. Beach of Yale University.

NEXT LEGISLATURE MUST PASS SPECIAL LAWS SOON

The Supreme Court Asks For Specific Legislation On Matters Of Much Importance.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Oct. 10.—Probably the most strenuously contested battle of the next Wisconsin legislature will be over the enactment of laws empowering municipalities to regulate or acquire public utilities. Two cases in the supreme court yesterday showed that the legislature must take positive action in this matter, before any progress can be made in this state in the line of municipal control over the rates or conduct of business by the private corporations now operating water, gas and electric service plants in Wisconsin under franchises. In the case of the city of Madison against the local gas and electric company, the court expressly challenged the legislature to provide remedial laws before the common council could even go into the books of service and to calculate reasonable rates. The court also stopped the city of Burlington in an attempt to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting a municipal lighting plant. The court holds in the Madison case that these public service corporations are subject to state regulation, but that the city which granted the franchise according to the old statutes, has not the power to adjust or control rates and conduct of the business. The court holds that the legislature alone can exercise control over these corporations; that the legislature can fix rates at any reasonable figure, the only limitation being that the rates allow the company to realize a reasonable profit on the actual investment. The legislature can exercise this power, the court says, either directly or by delegation through a commission, as it now exercises its taxing power through the board of assessment of railroad properties, and as it exercises its power to regulate railroads and fix and adjust railroad rates through the railroad rate commission, or the legislature can provide that it shall exercise its controlling power over these public service corporations through the local municipal authorities. That is the court's decision and if the legislature enacts the necessary laws, power can be delegated to the municipalities to exercise control over their local light and water corporations. This challenge of the supreme court for legislative action will produce various bills in the legislature and it can be depended upon that there will be a fierce struggle over them.

MRS. E. HALL,

MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED THERE

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION IN SESSION AT EVANSVILLE.

HUNDRED SIXTY YESTERDAY

Much Business Being Transacted and Many Addresses Being Given—Vaughan Speaks.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Evansville, Oct. 9.—The Baptist state convention is in session at the First Baptist church. The first session began Monday evening at 7:30 and the convention will close Thursday evening. There were about 160 delegates and ministers present today and about 250 are expected Wednesday. The convention thus far has proved most interesting and profitable. Much credit is due the resident pastor, Rev. Roliv Harlan, for the success of the convention. Meals are being served to the visiting clergy and delegates in the dining-room of the Baptist church by the ladies of that society.

The opening number on the program last evening was a song service and devotional. Rev. Roliv Harlan of the Baptist church here, delivered the address of welcome and B. H. Moore of Milwaukee and S. B. Messer of Detroit were the other speakers. The former told of the efficiency of the young people's work and the latter for a theme, "The Minister, His Temptations, His Usefulness, and the Road to Success."

Tuesday Busy Day
Three general discussions were held this morning. Two were according to program and the third recording an address on "The Minister, an Efficient Social Force." E. T. Galpin of Madison being unable to appear, F. W. Walker talked on the minister as an efficient preacher. N. O. Patterson of Hudson on the minister as an efficient pastor and W. E. Babcock of Eau Claire on the minister as an efficient soul-winner.

This afternoon the discussion of the minister was continued. T. H. Gentie of Platteville dealing with him as an efficient Bible School and B. H. Moore of Milwaukee dealing with him in his relation to efficient young people's work. W. A. McKillop of Racine formally extended the hand of fellowship to the new pastors and J. H. Palmer of Elkhorn responded.

In the evening an anti-saloon rally was held and the annual sermon was delivered. T. M. Hare of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league and J. W. Hoag of La Crosse speaking.

Wednesday at Convention
Evansville, Oct. 10.—There was an increased attendance at the sessions today. Much business was disposed of this morning and a number of addresses heard. The session began at 8:45 o'clock with a women's conference. At 9:00 there was a brief service. Various reports were heard: J. P. Abbott, D. D. of Appleton spoke for the Committee on resolutions; E. E. Dresser of Sheboygan as the University visitor; R. M. Vaughan of Janesville as the Wayland Academy visitor; W. A. McKillop of Racine for the committee on obituaries; O. F. Thornquist of Prentice on the efficiency of Swede work; E. L. Myrland of Madison on the efficiency of Dane and Norwegian work; Frank Peterson of Milwaukee on efficiency in Foreign Mission work; Judson B. Thomas, D. D., of Chicago on efficiency in home mission work. The corresponding secretary gave the report of the board of missions. The Misses Burdette and Lovelace of Chicago are the principal speakers this afternoon. They represent the Women's Home Mission board. Mrs. Mary S. Smith of Lodi is giving the story of the year and messages from the field are being read.

Turn Your Face Into Dollars.

Many a Man Has Failed Because His Face Was a Picture of Calamity.

It takes sunshine to produce a rose, a perfect rose. And so man, to be successful must have sunshine inside. The life which has it not, which has no health and happiness, is sour, harsh, pessimistic, and a failure. The world already has too many vineyard faces that breathe ill-will and strife. The world wants joy, comfort, sunshine, and will cling to the man who has it, who radiates gladness and triumph wherever he is and under all circumstances.

Some people have a genius for seeking out the disagreeable, the crooked, the bad and the ugly. These are the destroyers; they travel in schools, they herd together for they love their kind, and the cheerful part of the world will have nothing to do with them.

And why is it that so many peddle disaster knowing at the same time that if they do, their lives will be ruined? Some people cannot help it, for pessimism usually comes from bodily disorders, and this cannot always be prevented. The stomach, for instance, is the most common cause of discontent, sour face, recklessness, disgust and lack of ambition. A bad stomach—there is the secret of many a failure. Anyone can have a good stomach; a strong stomach, a stomach that can take care of anything and everything that is put into it; no matter where, whether it is a very bad stomach now or not. Then why not have it?

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. One ingredient of these little tablets digests 3,000 grains of food, and no matter how bad is your dyspepsia or indigestion, these tablets will digest everything in your stomach, thoroughly and completely, and better and quicker than a healthy stomach can do the same thing. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure quickly loss of appetite, brash, irritability, burning sensations, nausea, heartburn, eructations, loss of vim and spirit, bad memory, and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets around with you wherever you go, and take them after meals. Then only will you realize what it is to enjoy a meal, and what perfect digestion means. Your whole body and your mind will feel the effects; your vim will increase, you will be more satisfied with what the world does, you will think happier and be happier and your face will be one of supreme contentment. That will bring you success and then more success. Your face will bring you dollars. Try it. It will cost you just 50c for a package of these wonderful Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at any drug store on earth.

INTERNAL LEVIES MUST BE COLLECTED

Commissioner Instructs Milwaukee Revenue Officer on Special Cases.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—In a letter to Collector of Internal Revenue Fink at Milwaukee, Wis., Commissioner Yerkes has ruled as follows as regards the returns of manufacturers of tobacco and cigars: "Under the wording of the law relating to the returns made by manufacturers of tobacco and cigars, there seems to be no authority for making any exception in the application of the law."

Sections 3558 and 3590 provide that the yearly and monthly reports of each manufacturer shall be verified by his own oath. "I deem it important that this law be enforced as it stands. If there are those who for any reason are not able to comply with the requirements of law relating to the business in which they are engaged or in which they desire to be engaged, it is no fault of this office. It is not desired that hardship should be worked upon any citizen, but the fact that the enforcement of the law may tend to cause inconvenience to persons operating under the law is no good reason why that law should not be enforced. You are advised, however, that in the particular case presented, where the manufacturer of cigars was called away from this country for a period, the returns may be accepted as at present until such time as the manufacturer can make arrangements to comply with the terms of the section under which he operates."

JANESVILLE AFRAID OF THE CARS? ASK THE MOONLIGHTERS

Southern Rock County Farmers Take Topic For Initial Meeting of Club This Season.

Aiton, Oct. 10.—Will it be possible for a farmers' club to tell what the matter is with Janesville? The experiment will be tried anyway, for at its initial meeting, held last Monday evening, the executive committee of the Moonlighter club decided to hold the first special gathering of the 1906-7 series at Aiton, Tuesday evening, October 10th, and for a subject selected the very pertinent query, "Is Janesville Afraid of the Cars?"

The policy of the Moonlighter club in the past has been to discuss questions of general and vital interest. For example, in the two seasons of its existence, the following have been some of the topics which have been up for consideration: "The Panama Canal," "Russia and Japan," "Rural School Consolidation," "The Race Problem," "Graft," "Agriculture, Past and Present," "Patriotism." By this it will be seen that the club, in its discussions, has been fully up to the times and alert to keep pace with the onward march of events worth noting. Consequently, when its members seek to discover just what "forces" seek or unseek, are blocking the wheels of progress in Janesville, can be taken for granted that as local citizens of Rock county, they are interested in the county seat and anxious to know why it is not today the metropolis of the famed Rock river valley. In days gone by, the famous "Twilight Club," one of the most potent factors in the social life of Janesville, has grappled with this same question (differently worded), but unfortunately it does not seem to have hit upon a solution of the perplexing problem. Perhaps, after all it will be left for the modest and unassuming Moonlighter club to point out the way for the beautiful Bower City to unloosen the bands that are holding it down and spring forth, vigorous and aggressive, to take its rightful place among the foremost cities of the badger state, with great factories, interurban roads, and a population of 25,000.

EVER WATCHFUL OF TOBACCO MONOPOLY

Japan Notifies Government That Packages of Leaf Must Not Pass Through Mail.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—The government of Japan is ever watchful of its tobacco monopoly. It has notified the governments of the world, including that of the United States, that the postal administration of the Mikado's country has decided that packages containing tobacco destined for any country beyond Japan shall not pass over Japanese territory, even if transmitted by the parcels post. The postoffice department has so notified all postmasters under its jurisdiction.

MORE TERRITORY IS WON FOR TOBACCO

Cigar Manufacturer Demonstrates That It Can Be Grown in Northampton County, Pa.

Nazareth, Pa., Oct. 10.—William P. Kahler of this city has confuted the theory that tobacco cannot be successfully raised in Northampton county, Pennsylvania. Mr. Kahler, who is a cigar manufacturer, experimented with growing tobacco last summer as a result of which he is convinced that tobacco can be grown here successfully and profitably. So pleased is he over the success of his venture, he having gotten about fifty loads from one acre of land, that he will increase his acreage next season. Mr. Kahler will secure the tobacco and manufacture it into cigars. Other tobaccoists have been impressed with the success achieved by Mr. Kahler and have announced that they will experiment with growing tobacco next season.

HEAD OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES OF CITY

E. B. Heimstreet Was Elected President at Meeting Held This Week—Much Hard Work Ahead.

E. B. Heimstreet was elected president of the Janesville Associated Charities at the meeting held this week in the city hall. The new head of the association has, for several years, devoted considerable time and effort to the work and it goes without saying that he will discharge his new duties in a manner that will be highly appreciated by benefactor and beneficiary alike. The report of the secretary showed that while much good has been accomplished in the past a hard battle must be fought for the coming winter. A meeting of the association is to be held every third Monday in the month at three o'clock.

DOCK WEIGHT CASE WILL BE ADVANCED

Important Matter Will Be Decided by the United States Supreme Court.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—The Supreme court which convened yesterday will hear the dock weight case. There is no telling when it will be brought up, because of its importance it is quite likely that the case will be advanced on the calendar. The U. S. circuit court of appeals has held that the weight on which duty shall be levied is the weight on withdrawal from the government warehouse and not on entry. An official decision on this case is of much importance as wool, hides, sugar, etc., will be affected as well as tea, tobacco and should the contention of the importers be sustained by the supreme court, the government will be called upon to refund a great deal of money, which has been collected on the basis of the weight at the time of entry.

Another matter of interest is the case of Percy V. Stramman, which concerns the collection of duty on some cigars imported from the Isle of Pines. As will be remembered a number of cigars were imported from the Isle of Pines and seized by the collector of the port of New York and held for duty. The importers protested that the Isle was American territory. As the case was made entirely to get the matter into the supreme court which might decide whether the Isle was or was not American territory it is not of great interest to the tobacco trade, especially as the consular agreement that the matter shall go over until the senate has disposed of the pending treaty between the U. S. and Cuba, under which the Isle of Pines is ceded to Cuba. The residents of the Isle of Pines have been very bitter in their opposition to the sovereignty of Cuba and have many friends and sympathizers in many countries, among whom are a number of senators, so it is quite possible the treaty will be defeated. The evidence recently given by the Cubans that they are unfit to govern themselves is calculated to make the senate hesitate in turning over to them the Isle of Pines which is occupied largely by Americans and in whose industries considerable American capital is invested. It is an open secret that during the recent Cuban revolution the revolutionists were given aid and sympathy by the Americans on the Isle of Pines.

JANESVILLE NOT TO HEAR WM. J. BRYAN

Next Week's One Day Schedule Has Been Changed so as to Accommodate Milwaukee.

William Jennings Bryan's itinerary in Wisconsin has been changed, and Milwaukee instead of Janesville will hear him at eleven o'clock next Wednesday morning. The matter was taken up by Milwaukee political leaders with J. J. Cunningham, chairman of the Rock county democratic committee, over the long distance telephone late yesterday afternoon, and the latter yielded his preference in the matter after assurance had been given by State Chairman E. H. Manson that the Bower City would be given a night meeting on the occasion of the Nebraska's second visit later on in the campaign. He will speak at Watertown next Wednesday afternoon at Madison that evening. On the following day he is scheduled to speak at Sioux Falls, S. D. The start for the one day's invasion of the badger state will be made from Chicago.

FIRST ACT FINALE OF "EVERYBODY WORKS BUT FATHER"

The announcement of the early appearance of A. S. Webster's big Musical Comedy, "Everybody Works But Father," has created something of a furore among the theatregoers and music lovers of this city as an event of more than passing notice. The big scenic and electrical effects, the large and costly arrayed chorus, the pretty show girls and the general sumptuousness of the production are

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, October 10, 1865.—The Cholera.—The woman spoken of in last evening's paper, as having the cholera died this morning at 3 o'clock. As this is the second case occurring in this city within a week, both proving fatal, it is likely there will be other cases here, and more or less excitement in regard to the disease. The two most prominent causes of this disease are filth and fear and wherever the disease exists people should exercise all due vigilance to remove everything of a filthy nature about their premises—see that their cellars, closets, vaults, drains, and all outbuildings are as clean as they can be made by every precaution in their power. Next let the body be kept clean and warm with proper flannel underwear, and the system well braced with healthy, nourishing food, well cooked and eaten moderately at regular hours. It is a mistake to suppose that cholera can be avoided by abstaining from all vegetable food. Fresh and vegetables in moderate quantities are just as healthy in their season as any food, and it is quantity and quality that does the damage, more than anything else. It is a grave mistake also for families to suddenly change their method of living, in hope of avoiding this disease. If any change is made

A FOOLHARDY RACE

The race for the Vanderbilt cup, recently run on the Long Island course, adds another number to the list of hare-devil performances just now so popular in this country. If the race had been free from accidents and tragedy nothing would have been accomplished worthy of record, but it was not. Half a dozen lives were sacrificed and a score of people were maimed and crippled.

The course was a little more than 2 1/2 miles long and the run of 290 odd miles was made in 290 minutes, equivalent to making ten round-trips from Janesville to Beloit in five hours. The speed necessary over a part of the course was from 75 to 90 miles an hour, equal to the fastest speed of the best limited trains.

It may be gratifying to manufacturers to know that machines can be built and equipped to stand this terrific strain and the winner may regard the cup as a trophy of great importance, but the verdict of public sentiment denounces the whole thing as a foolhardy venture.

The country road is the people's highway. It was not built nor ever intended for speed contests with high-power engines, and while the automobile has the same rights as any other vehicle it has no right to make the highway dangerous.

The Vanderbilt race demonstrated that almost any well-equipped machine can be made to attain a 60-mile pace, and that is at least 30 miles faster than any machine should be permitted to run on a country road.

The man who rides through the country in an automobile for pleasure is satisfied with a 15-mile pace. This is fast enough for comfort and safety and gives to other people the right-of-way to which they are entitled.

The Vanderbilt race contributed nothing to the credit of American sports, save a number of tragedies that were inexcusable. The nation will do well to place the ban of disapproval on this class of recklessness.

AN EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

The good roads movement just now attracting attention is an educational movement and for that reason merits most hearty support and cooperation. The building of roads is a profession requiring expert knowledge gained by experience and careful study. The same expert knowledge is necessary for good street building and where this knowledge is lacking money is ruthlessly squandered as has been the case in Janesville.

The convention to be held next Monday under the auspices of the National Good Roads association will place the county in touch with a national organization whose one and only mission is to help the people to help themselves.

Public-spirited men are behind the enterprise and money is freely contributed for its support. Mr. Moore, the president of the association, and his associate, Mr. Touchs, the national organizer, are men of wide experience. Their time is all devoted to the work and the states already organized and working under their supervision are rapidly coming to the front with the best roads in the country.

The state of Wisconsin now has an opportunity to join the ranks and at least forty counties in the southern half of the state will be organized before the close of the year.

The initial organization will be Rock county and the citizens are honored by being placed at the head of the procession. Intelligent cooperation means a long stride in the right direction and it means in the end a county noted for good roads and open to traffic twelve months in the year. The convention is free and everybody is invited. Don't fail to attend.

COMMERCE OF CUBA

The foreign commerce of Cuba, according to the latest returns received by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, aggregates practically 200 million dollars per annum, the imports being 95 million dollars and the exports 110 millions. The population is in round numbers 1 1/2 millions, and the area 33,000 miles, or about equal to that of the state of Virginia.

Of the imports 45 per cent were in 1905 drawn from the United States, and of the exports 86 per cent were sent to the United States. There has been a steady gain in the share of the imports drawn from the United States, the share in 1894 being 39 per cent; in 1902, 42 per cent, and in 1905, 45 per cent. The share of the exports sent to the United States was, in 1894, 35 per cent; in 1902, 77 per cent, and in 1905, 86 per cent.

Of the exports during the fiscal year 1905, amounting to 110 million dollars, sugar alone is valued at 63 millions; tobacco, crude and manufactured, 27 millions; and fruits about 3 millions. Of the imports, amounting to 93 millions, cotton manufactures were in round terms 9 million dollars; breadstuffs, including rice, 9 millions; cattle, horses, and mules, 7 millions; meats, 7 millions; machinery, 6 millions; manufactures of iron and steel not classed as machinery, about 4 millions; leather, and manufactures thereof, 3 1/2 millions; wines, malt liquors, and spirits and other beverages, about 3 millions; manufactures of fibers, nearly 3 millions; vegetables, 2 1/2 millions; wood, and manufactures thereof, 2 millions; oils and fats for industrial purposes, 1 1/2 millions; dairy products, a little less than 1 1/2 millions; fish, 1 1/2 millions; paper, and manufactures thereof, a million; wool, and manufactures thereof, a million; and glass and glassware, a little less than 1 million dollars.

Of the exports, which, as already indicated, are composed chiefly of sugar, tobacco, and fruits, nearly all of the sugar and a large proportion of the fruits are sent to the United States and the exports of tobacco are divided between the United States and Europe, and as a result 87 per cent of the total exports go to the United States.

The Wisconsin state medical board is considering the application of a doctor for a license who proposes to advertise. If license is refused he proposes to test the validity of the law in the courts. Medical ethics is the avenue to poverty and the younger men in the profession are finding it out.

Among the publications just now flooding the country and sowing the seed of discord is the free thought publication known as "Tomorrow." For pure and unadulterated gall it leads the procession, and yet it appears to have a clientele. Yellow journalism is not monopolized by the daily press.

The campaign is progressing so quietly that the average voter is hardly aware that he is in the midst of it, with election day less than a month away. The republican party will retain supremacy, however, for it is the only party in the field that commands respect and confidence.

Eugene V. Debs, the socialistic agitator of unsavory fame, delivered an address in a saloon hall in Chicago last Sunday in which he attacked the President in particular and the government generally. There's only one good place for Debs in this world, and that is on some island inhabited by cannibals.

WISCONSIN MAN TO BE HEAD OF SCHOOL

Mr. Davis of Menomonee Will Be
Dean of St. Lawrence Agricultural College.

Rev. Dr. Almon Gunnison of St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y., and Judge Abbott, one of the members of the board of regents, spent several hours in Janesville yesterday, the guests of Hon. Ogden H. Fethers. They were on their way to Canton after having spent several days in consultation with Dean Henry of the Wisconsin State College of Agriculture at Madison. Last winter the New York state legislature made a large appropriation for a college of agriculture to be established in connection with St. Lawrence University. Dr. Gunnison, the president, and Judge Abbott have spent some days in Madison inspecting the college there and have decided upon Mr. Davis of Menomonee as the new dean for the proposed college they are to establish. This decision was reached after consultation with Dean Henry, who highly recommended Mr. Davis. St. Lawrence University is located at Canton, N. Y., in St. Lawrence County, one of the large tier of northern counties of the Empire state. Aside from the new college of agriculture there are colleges of fine arts, divinity and law. Seventy acres adjoining the present university grounds have been purchased and new buildings will be erected in the spring.

RUMORS DENIED BY RAILWAY OFFICIALS

Reports of Transfer of Shops and Headquarters to Green Bay from Fond du Lac.

This afternoon an additional report was made public from Fond du Lac to the effect the North-Western shops at that city are to be removed to Green Bay. Yesterday the Gazette published a similar report to the effect that the main offices of the Wisconsin Division were to be transferred to that place as well. Last evening a prominent North-Western official was seen and asked regarding the proposed changes. He denied any knowledge of them and said he should be in a position to know were they contemplated. North Fond du Lac is a city created by the North-Western road and it does not seem probable that they will remove their expensive equipment to Green Bay.

Local talk regarding the possibilities of the new assuring yard are common about the depots and yards. It is known that the ground purchased by the North-Western last spring has all been surveyed and that arrangements have been made by the company with P. Hohenadel, Jr., who had land contracts for crops for several years to come on the bulk of the property, whereby the road is to secure full possession by November 1.

CONGREGATIONALISTS PLAN FOR MISSIONARY WORK

The Women's Missionary societies of the Congregational church will meet Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the church parlors. The ladies will study this year, "The Island and World" by Mrs. Montgomery, "Aliens or Americans" by Howard Grass, as well as other interesting topics. Mrs. S. B. Lewis, Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Denison will have charge of the program this week. Each lady is asked to bring a current bearing on missionary. Inter-est. Picnic tea at 5:30.

IS INCENDIARY AT WORK HERE?

DOUBLE HOUSE FIRED FROM OUTSIDE IN NIGHT

DR. SUTHERLAND'S PROPERTY

Occupied by Reverends W. E. and J. L. Meads and Families, Recently Moved to City.

Within two days two fires have occurred in the city and the origins of both remain mysteries. The cigar-stub theory, as to the bridge, might explain both, but many people will be inclined to believe there is an incendiary at work here. No one knows how the Fourth avenue bridge blaze started, but a more suspicious fire occurred during the windstorm Monday night. Dr. Q. O. Sutherland, who owns the double house owned by Dr. Q. O. Sutherland and located on Center street, across from the St. Peter's English Lutheran Church.

Is Occupied

The building is occupied by Rev. W. E. Meads and family and Rev. J. L. Meads and family, both of whom removed to Janesville but two weeks ago, the former coming from Johnson and the latter from Southern Illinois. The fire was discovered by Mr. W. E. Meads, who awakened at half-past ten o'clock as a volume of smoke was entering his window. He quickly jumped from the bed and looked out. He could see a blaze coming from under the front steps and thought the entire lower portion of the building was afire. The household was awakened and it developed on examination that only a portion of the steps was burning. The blaze was quickly extinguished without calling the fire department.

Matches Found
Only two burned matches were found in the vicinity and it is possible that the fire started from one of these, which might have been carelessly cast there by a passerby lighting a cigar or pipe. However, the wind was blowing too furiously to "light up" and the place where the fire occurred was not sheltered, the wind blowing directly in there.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP WELCOMED BY 200

Large Attendance at First Series of Meetings for Men of Congregational Church.

"There is more religion in most men than we think," was the assurance Rev. R. C. Denison gave to two hundred or thereabouts assembled in the Congregational church parlors last evening for the first of a series of good fellowship meetings projected for the season. The purpose of the meetings is to persuade the men to become better acquainted with each other and the affairs of the church. There was an informal program last evening in which Capt. Elmy Norcross, F. L. Clemons, Supt. H. C. Buell, Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, S. C. Cobb, and others took part, and afterwards refreshments were served by the ladies. The meeting proved a most enjoyable and profitable one for all who were present. Willis Bladen, J. T. Wright, E. Heller, J. F. Spoon, S. B. Lewis, J. A. Craig, C. A. Thompson, H. M. Dedrick, E. M. Gates, H. C. Buell, J. C. Shuler, J. M. Whitehead, R. C. Denison and H. J. Cunningham were the members of the reception committee.

HURLED FROM LOAD OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Fred Mavers of Brodhead Injured in Runaway Accident on Jefferson Street Hill.

On the hill of Jefferson street in Monterey, this morning a sensational runaway accident occurred and Fred Mavers of Brodhead was badly injured. He was driving a hayrack of household furniture that was being moved to Brodhead when the team broke into a frenzied rush down grade. He was unable to hold the frightened animals and as the bottom of the hill was reached they attempted to run into Claron street. The wagon upset and crashed into a telephone pole. Mavers was hurled out and residents in the vicinity found him unconscious. He was taken to a home nearby and Dr. F. B. Farnsworth summoned. Examination showed that no bones had been broken but it is thought that internal injuries were sustained as the man was senseless for a quarter of an hour and suffered after eight o'clock and at eleven the Russell ambulance was called and Mavers removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Drew, at 301 South Jackson.

SABBATH NAG TRADE HE THINKS ILLEGAL

Frank Pufahl Wishes to Have Courts Declare Bargain with Paul Murphy Null and Void.

After joining with Paul Murphy, a professional horse-trader in the pleasant pastime of piloting sundry schooners across the river last Sunday, Frank Pufahl, so he alleges, agreed to trade a good nag in his possession for what appeared to be a better one owned by the said Murphy. Subsequently Mr. Pufahl found that the charger had some bad points which he had noted in making the bargain and he hurried him back to the Murphy stable. The horse-trader refused to return the animal and Pufahl has commenced an action of replevin in Judge Earle's court, basing it on the grounds that the trade was not legal inasmuch as it took place on the Sabbath. The action will be argued Saturday morning. Judge Earle today rendered a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $23 and costs in the action of W. J. and Frank Croak vs. George Williams.

WASHINGTON STREET FILLING WORK ENDS

Work of Repairing $3,000 Damage by Storm on Night of August 8 Was Finished Today.

Today the work of filling in the immense cavity on Washington street caused by the big washout which occurred during the storm on the night of August 8 was completed and the work of laying the street car rails, the gas mains, and temporary walks has already commenced. The surfacing material and permanent sidewalks will not be put down until the filling has had ample time to settle. The contract which P. W. Ryan took and let to Contractor McGavock of Beloit has required about six weeks for fulfillment. The number of cubic yards of material used has not been definitely computed. The original rough estimate was 9,000 and Mr. Ryan's contract which dates from August 20 calls for compensation by the city at the rate of 34 cents a yard.

FRANK FISHER SUES WM. KELLY WHO WAS TWICE SUED BY WIFE

Defendant Asks For Change of Venue But Absence of Judge Fifield Makes It Impracticable.

Frank Fisher who lives on the Madison road about four miles from the city has commenced an action in Judge Earle's court to recover on sundry accounts from William Kelly. Judge Earle is the plaintiff's attorney and H. L. Maxfield is counsel for the defendant. The defendant wanted a change of venue because he feared that one justice might show partiality towards another, but when it was found that Judge Fifield was absent from the city and that the case would have to be taken to Atton or Milton, matters became complicated and an adjournment for one week was finally taken. Not long ago Mrs. Frank Fisher had Kelly sued in municipal court for abusive language. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine. She then brought a civil action against him and the matter was settled by the attorneys. Now the husband appears to have decided to emulate her example and try a few experiments with the law.

Minutes After End.

Reports of the Chicago championship baseball game yesterday afternoon within eight minutes after the game closed in Chicago, beating all the Chicago and Milwaukee papers. The flash of the winner was received in the Gazette office at just four-seventeen or two minutes after the game ended and in six minutes more the newboys had the papers on the street with the score in print. None of the Chicago or Milwaukee papers received here had a word of the game beyond advance notices. The Gazette's report came by Associated Press, showing the superiority of this service.

REV. THOS. NORTH IS OUT OF THE RACE

Owing to His Transfer to Evansville
Pastorate He Will Not Run for Assemblyman.

Rev. Thomas W. North, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at Milton Junction and recently assigned to Evansville, has decided not to make the run on the Prohibition ticket for assemblyman from the first district and has communicated with County Clerk Lee to that effect. Whether or not the county committee can name someone to fill the place on the ticket is a question. Rev. North has withdrawn, undoubtedly on account of the ecclesiastical exigencies which has necessitated removing to a different political district.

FORM OF CONTRACT FOR WORK ON CANAL

WORK IS TO BE DONE UNDER PERCENTAGE SYSTEM.

SHONTS UPHOLDS PLANS

Chairman of Commission Declares
Best Results Can Be Obtained
by Following the Scheme
Proposed by Board.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Invitations for proposals to complete the Panama canal were issued Tuesday by the canal commission, and the form of contract under which the work is to be done was made public by Chairman Shonts, who also gave out a letter written to the secretary of war giving the commission's reasons for contracting the work.

The contract provides that each bidder must undertake the entire work of construction. No bar will be offered to corporations associating in the undertaking, but they must be legally organized into a single body with which the government can deal. Bidders will not be considered who do not have available capital of $5,000,000. A certified check for $200,000 is required with each proposal and a bond of $3,000,000 will be required from the successful bidder. The bidding is not limited to American contractors. All proposals are to be in before noon of December 12, when they will be opened.

Proposals and Estimates.
Proposals are to be expressed in terms of percentage upon the estimated cost of construction, which is to be fixed by a board of five engineers, three representing the government and two representing the contractor. The chief engineer of the canal commission is to be chairman of the engineering board. The engineering board will also estimate a reasonable time for the completion of the canal, and will agree upon a system of premiums and penalties to be paid to the contractor according as the work is completed within or beyond the estimated cost and time. All the estimated cost and time. All the estimated cost and time.

Control of Engineering.
The contract specifies that the commission is to retain control of all engineering work in connection with the construction of the canal, also municipal engineering, the police, sanitary, hospital and commissary departments, mess houses, quarters, construction and maintenance of buildings, operation of the Panama railway, an auditing department to which contractors' accounts are to be open, and a department of materials and supplies.

Explains Percentage System.
Chairman Shonts defends the percentage system of payment in his letter to Secretary Taft as follows: "This plan is being employed increasingly by the oldest, largest and most successful corporations in the country."

"The government will get the benefit of the combined efforts of the best and most experienced contractors in the world, each in charge of a department in which he is a specialist and cooperating with other specialists."

"The government will secure the co-operation of these powerful interests in keeping mechanics of all classes."

"The plan offers every incentive for speedy and economical construction by penalizing extra time and cost and rewarding better than contract performance as to either."

"By retaining control of the work and exercising strict supervision through its engineering force the government will protect itself against cheap or faulty construction."

Will Reduce the Time.
"The contract will be more flexible. The time and cost of completing the canal as estimated will in all probability be reduced by the application of new principles which will be discovered as the work progresses. Finally, a termination of the contract should it become necessary, would be less disastrous to the contractor, while an

AMNESTY FOR ALL CUBAN INSURGENTS

GOV. TAFT ISSUES DECREE ABOLVING ALL CRIMES.

APPEAR TO LIKE MAGOON

New Provisional Executive Is Welcomed to Havana by Mayor and Press Representatives, Who Give Bouquets to Ladies.

Havana, Oct. 10.—Charles E. Magoon, the newly appointed provisional governor of Cuba, arrived here Tuesday afternoon. Coincidentally with his coming Gov. Taft gave out a general decree proclaiming amnesty not only to the rebels, but to all persons charged with political offenses or crimes in any way connected with the revolution. He also issued orders covering the attitude of the American marines and soldiers toward the people of Cuba.

The appearance of yellow fever at Santiago caused the immediate issuance of an order by Col. Barnett directing that the American marines be removed from that city. The men were marched aboard the ships.

Three cases of yellow fever have been reported in that city.

New Governor Arrives.
The steamer Mascotte with Mr. Magoon, Gen. J. Franklin Bell, Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon entered Havana harbor at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The arrival of the steamer was delayed 12 hours because of the belated arrival of the train at Tampa. In the wake of the Mascotte came the battleship Texas with a detachment of 300 marines from Norfolk. The battleship saluted as she passed the Cuban fortress.

A launch carrying Gov. Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and Capt. McCoy and Marti, aide to Gov. Taft, hurried out to the Mascotte. There followed another launch with Gen. Funston and his aid, and a third, with a committee of Cuban newspaper men who carried huge bouquets of flowers to present to the ladies. Gov. Taft and his party boarded the Mascotte, but returned at once with Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon. Gen. Bell and the general's aid, Capt. Wright, the flowers were delivered to Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon with a brief address of welcome.

Welcomed by the Mayor.
The Taft launch returned to the wharf of the captain of the port. Upon its arrival there the Taft party was welcomed by Julio de Cadenas, the mayor of Havana, and the city council. In addition there were a number of officers of the navy present at the landing. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon came ashore carrying their bouquets. They were followed by Mr. Magoon. Gov. Taft, Mr. Bacon and the aids. After the presentations to the mayor and the city council the party entered carriages and were driven to the palace. As they were about to enter the carriages, Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon were presented with more flowers from Commander Villaverde of the rebel army and his wife.

Upon arriving at the palace Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon entered their private apartments and Gen. Gov. Taft, Mr. Bacon and Mr. Magoon had a long conference in the governor's office.

Glad to Govern Cuba.
Following this conference Mr. Magoon received the members of the press. He declined to discuss his plans for the future. He said he had expected upon arriving at Washington to have 30 days leave of absence prior to his departure for the Philippines. He did not regret, however, the change in his programme and he expressed himself as gratified with being in Cuba. He said he would take up his residence with Minister Morgan, as the minister's guest, pending the departure of Gov. Taft and that he might continue to reside there if he found it convenient.

Gen. Bell will reside at the army headquarters in Marianao occupied during the first period of American intervention by Gen. Lee. Gen. Funston will make his headquarters at Camp Columbia.

While the arrival of the new governor was not attended by any marked demonstration, the Cubans appear to be favorably impressed by his personality.

GREAT OIL TRUST SUIT BEING HEARD

MAJORITY OF JURORS EARN LIVELIHOOD ON FARMS.

HISTORY OF LITIGATION

County Prosecutor David Submits Documents to Uphold His Contentions That Standard Company Is Trust Organization.

Findlay, O., Oct. 10.—The suit of the state of Ohio against the Standard Oil company of Ohio, in which the company is charged with conspiracy against trade, began here Tuesday and progressed at a rapid pace.

A jury was secured in less than two hours. County Prosecutor W. L. David presented his case. Virgil P. Kline, attorney for the defense made answer. Attorney G. H. Phelps, of the prosecution, then read documentary evidence until the court adjourned 20 minutes before five o'clock. He promised to continue the reading during the greater part of Wednesday.

In brief, Mr. David stated to the jury that the Standard Oil company became a trust in 1882, and although it had several times since changed the form of its organization, had not ceased to commit the offenses of a trust.

Standard Oil Not a Trust.
Replying, Mr. Kline characterized as mere matters of ancient history the relation of the original formation of the trust. The Standard Oil company, he said, was a corporation controlled entirely by its stockholders; it was in no trust; it could not be said that any of the statements of Mr. David relative to the early history of the organization were true; but if they were, they were not within the limits of Hancock county, and consequently without the jurisdiction of the court. The company, he said, sold some oil at retail in the county, might own some real estate here; but the statement that it was in any combination in restraint of trade was entirely unsupported by the facts.

History of the Company.
The documentary evidence which the prosecution began submitting and which is stated constitutes the bulk of their case, is contained in a document authenticated by the supreme court of the state as the history of the Standard Oil litigation before that body. It was all objected to by the defense as irrelevant, but allowed to go in by Judge Baker, presiding. The documents read to the jury Tuesday, which occupied the whole of the afternoon session, following the statement of case by both sides, included the original trust agreement of 1882, the pleadings in the case before the supreme court in 1892, which resulted in the order to dissolve the trust; the pleadings before the same court in 1897, resulting in a judgment by the court that the trust had been dissolved.

The interrogators propounded to John D. Rockefeller during that litigation, which the prosecution desired to read had just been reached when adjournment was taken. Mr. Kline indicated that there would be much to be said before these were allowed in the record, as we are entitled to our witnesses face to face," he remarked.

Attendance Is Light.
The trial attracted very little public attention during the morning session, but for a short time in the afternoon the court room, which can accommodate more than 200 persons, was filled. The tedious reading of the evidence discouraged public interest, and when adjournment was had few but the interested parties were present.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

The laws of nature and heredity are fixed and invariable. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, weak eyes, hip disease, pale, waxy complexion, emaciated bodies, running sores and ulcers, and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. Those who have inherited this blighting trouble may succeed in holding it in check during young, vigorous life, but after a spell of sickness, or when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, the ravages of the disease will become manifest and sometimes run into consumption. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out the scrofulous deposits, kills the germs and completely cures the disease. It changes the quality of the blood by removing all impurities and poisons and supplying this vital fluid with rich, health-sustaining qualities. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine and is especially adapted to systems which have been weakened and poorly nourished by scrofulous blood. Literature on Scrofula and medical advice free.

CENTRAL RAILWAY CHANGES

WISCONSIN ROAD CONTROL GOES INTO NEW HANDS.

Incoming President Says Line Will Not Be Absorbed, But Will Retain Its Individuality.

Milwaukee, Oct. 10.—The Wisconsin Central Railway company was formally transferred into the control of new interests at Tuesday's annual meeting of the stockholders, which was held at the general offices of the corporation in this city. The new board of directors is headed by George M. Cummings, of New York. The new names on the list of directors are: T. L. Chadbourne, Jr.; John F. Hill, F. D. Dewey, Harry C. Starr, C. C. Rasmus, and Mark T. Cox. These take the places of William L. Bull, H. R. Whitcomb, Howard Morris, John Crosby Brown, James C. Colgate and Gerald L. Hoyt, resigned. At the conclusion of the stockholders' meeting, the following official statement was issued, showing the make-up of the directors and the new officers of the corporation for the ensuing year:

Directors—George M. Cummings, W. A. Bradford, Jr., T. L. Chadbourne, Jr., G. A. Fernald, John F. Hill, F. D. Dewey, Harry C. Starr, C. C. Rasmus, Mark T. Cox, William F. Vilas and Fred T. Gates.

At a directors' meeting the following officers of the corporation will be elected:

W. A. Bradford, Jr., president.

George M. Cummings, chairman of the board of directors.

T. L. Chadbourne, Jr., chairman of the executive committee.

T. H. Gill, general solicitor.

Godkin and Chadbourne, New York, general counsel.

W. R. Hancock, treasurer.

William A. Bradford, Jr., of Cincinnati, is slated to succeed H. F. Whitcomb, of Milwaukee, as president of the company.

George H. Cummings, of New York, is chairman of the board of directors, in place of William L. Bull.

Mr. Bradford made the following statement: "There is no intention whatever of consolidation or combination between the Wisconsin Central and the other roads; and all reports to the effect that this property is to be absorbed, consolidated with, or in any manner placed in a position by which it loses its identity and individuality as a separate and distinct railway system, are without the least foundation. The new owners, who are now in control of the property have no idea of any such change. The fact that I happen to be president of the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville road has no significance whatever in the changes in the Wisconsin Central."

PRESS COMMENT.

Oshkosh Tracton Decision. Fond du Lac Bulletin: The practical settlement of the Oshkosh street railway imbroglio by the decision of Judge Webb, through which the interurban company is enabled to run its cars across the bridge to the center of the city is very pleasing to the people of Fond du Lac, and without doubt to the people of Oshkosh also. To sustain the contention of the Oshkosh company would have been a public calamity, as it would restrict the transportation facilities of the city by putting them all in the power of a single concern, thus creating a monopoly. The interurban company had received a franchise from the city and had been compelled to pay for it at the rate of $1,000 a year for thirty-five years. To assess the company such a large sum for the franchise and then restrict it at the demand of another company to partial compliance with its terms would have been a great injustice.

Old-Fashioned "Hired Girl." R. L. McCardell in Everybody's Magazine: "The hired girl" (we never, never allude to her as "the maid" in the small American town or quiet country place, where you and I were "raised") was like one of the family, and mother was glad to have her help, and none of us put on any frills with her, and she was not compelled to put on any frills of cap or apron with us. Oftentimes, especially in the quiet country places, her social standing was as good as that of anybody else. Usually she was one of a grown family of girls; there was plenty of help at her house, and so she came and assisted her mother at our house in their hours of ease, mother and she discussed the neighborhood gossip together. The "hired girl" had her own life, and she was not a "hired girl" and finally, as the years went by, she grew into a woman, and we were quite a social affair with much temperate merriment and with many cheap, but useful presents.

STATE NOTES.

Dr. George R. Leavitt, pastor of the First Congregational church of Beloit, and wife, celebrated their forty-third wedding anniversary by visiting daughter at Kenosha, Ill., and Beloit friends sent flowers of congratulation.

An unknown man, supposed to be a resident of Chicago, was struck by a southbound train on the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railway just south of Kenosha Monday night. He died three hours later at the Kenosha hospital.

Richard Pie, a laborer, was buried alive at Racine. He was digging in a trench for gas mains, when the earth, caused in and he went out of sight. Fellow workmen dug twenty minutes, and got him out alive; but both legs were paralyzed and his body crushed.

Myrtle Harp, aged 10 years, was burned to death at Chippewa Falls while her mother was bringing home the cow, leaving the girl to attend to the breakfast. The girl's cotton dress caught fire and resulted in her death. When the mother returned she found her daughter enveloped in flames, and before the fire was extinguished the girl was dead.

The case of Ira Stewart, charged with murdering his son-in-law, Fred Miller, at Stanley on Jan. 28, 1901, was postponed until the next spring term of court, on account of the nonarrival of important witnesses for the defense. About forty witnesses were there, some from as far away as New Mexico.

The students at St. John's Military academy will no longer be able to give an excuse for being late to class that they did not know what time it was. A representative of a bell company is installing a set of Warren chimies in the tower of the new DeKoven hall. The bells are already in place and the dial in. There will be two dials, one facing the north and the other the west.

With Edged Tools

By HENRY SETON MERRIMAN
Author of "The Sowers," "Roden's Corner," "From One Generation to Another," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY HARPER & BROTHERS.

"How are you?" replied Guy Oscar.

"You are a good man for a crowd. I think I will follow in your wake," said Sir John. "A number of people, of the baser sort, got my carriage here somewhere. Pool of a man looking for me in the wrong place to doubt. 'Where are you going?' 'May I offer you a lift?' This, away. Here, John, take Mr. Oscar's parcels."

He could not have done it better in his keenest day. Guy Oscar was

"Ah—Mr. Oscar—how d'ye do?" seated in the huge, roomy carriage before he had realized what had happened to him.

"Your man will look after your traps, I suppose," said Sir John, hospitably drawing the fur rug from the opposite seat.

"Yes," replied Guy, "although he is not my man. He is Jack's man Joseph."

"Ah, of course! Excellent servant too," Jack told me he had left him with you."

Sir John leaned out of the window and asked the footman whether he knew his colleague Joseph, and upon receiving an answer in the affirmative he gave orders, acting as Guy's mouth-piece, that the luggage was to be conveyed to Russell Square. While these orders were being executed the two men sat waiting in the carriage, and Sir John lost no time.

"I am glad," he said, "to have this opportunity of thanking you for all your kindness to my son in this wild expedition of yours."

"Yes," replied Oscar, with a transparent reserve which rather puzzled Sir John.

"You must excuse me," said the old gentleman, sitting rather stiffly. "If I appear to take a somewhat limited interest in this great-simulacrum discovery, of which there has been considerable talk in some circles, the limit to my interest is drawn by a lamentable ignorance. I am afraid the business details are rather unpalatable to me. My son has endeavored, somewhat cursorily perhaps, to explain the matter to me, but I have never mastered the—or commercial technicalities. However, I understand that you have made quite a mint of money, which is the chief consideration now."

Oscar submitted slightly to this high-handed arrangement. He had not known Sir John well. Indeed, all his intercourse with him has been noted in these pages. He was, rather surprised to find him so talkative and so very friendly. But Guy Oscar was not a very deep person. He was sublimely indifferent to the long drawn motive. He presumed that Sir John made friends of his son's friends, and in his straightforward acceptance of facts he was perfectly well aware that by his timely rescue he had saved Jack Meredith from the hands of the tribes. The presumption was that Sir John knew of this, and it was only natural that he should be somewhat exceptionally gracious to the man who had saved his son's life.

It would seem that Sir John divined these thoughts, for he presently spoke of them.

"Owing to an unfortunate difference of opinion with my son we have not been very communicative lately," he said, with that deliberation which he knew how to assume when he desired to be heard without interruption. "I am therefore almost entirely ignorant of your African affairs, but I imagine Jack owes more to your pluck and promptness than has yet transpired. I gathered as much from one or two conversations I had with Miss Gordon, when she was in England. I am one of Miss Gordon's many admirers."

"And I am another," said Oscar, frankly.

"Ah! Then you are happy enough to be the object of a reciprocal feeling which for myself I could scarcely expect. She spoke of you in no measured language. I gathered from her that if you had not acted with great promptitude the ere-happy event of tomorrow could not have taken place."

The old man paused, and Guy Oscar, who looked somewhat distressed and distinctly uncomfortable, could find no graceful way of changing the conversation.

"In a word," went on Sir John in a very severe tone, "I owe you a great debt. You saved my boy's life."

"Yes, but you see," argued Oscar, fiddling his tongue at last, "out there things like that don't count for so much."

"Oh, don't they?" There was the suggestion of a smile beneath Sir John's grim eyebrows.

"No," returned Oscar, rather lamely. "It's a sort of thing that happens every day out there."

Sir John turned suddenly, and with the courtliness that was ever his in the indulgence in a rare exhibition of feeling. He laid his hand on Guy Oscar's stalwart knee.

"My dear Oscar," he said, and when he chose he could render his voice very soft and affectionate, "none of those arguments avail me because I am not out there. I like you for trying to make little of your exploit. Such conduct is worthy of you, worthy of a gentleman, but you cannot disguise the fact that Jack owes his life to you and I owe you the same, which, between you and me I may mention, is more valuable to me than my own."

"You must remember always that I am your debtor, and if circumstances should ever seem to indicate that the feeling I have for you is anything but friendly and kind, do me the honor of disbelieving those indications. You understand?"

"Yes," replied Oscar untruthfully.

"Here we are at Lady Cantourne's," continued Sir John, "where, as it happens, I expect to meet Jack. Her ladyship is naturally interested in the affair of tomorrow, and has kindly undertaken to keep us up to date in our behavior. You will come in with me?"

Oscar remembered afterward that he was rather puzzled, that there was perhaps in his simple mind the faintest trace of suspicion. At the moment, however, there was no time to do anything but follow. The man had already rung the bell, and Lady Cantourne's butler was holding the door open. There was something in his attitude vaguely suggestive of expectation. He never took his eyes from Sir John Meredith's face, as if on the alert for an unspoken order.

Guy Oscar followed his companion into the hall, and the very scent of the house for each house speaks to more senses than one—made his heart leap in his breast. It seemed as if Millicent's presence was in the very air. This was more than he could have hoped. He had not intended to call this afternoon, although the visit was only to have been postponed for twenty-four hours.

Sir John Meredith's face was a marvel to see. It was quite steady. He was upright and alert, with all the impetuosity of his mind up in arms. There was a light in his eyes, a gleam of light from other days not yet buried out.

He laid aside his gold beaded cane and threw back his shoulders.

"Is Mr. Meredith upstairs?" he said to the butler.

"Yes, sir."

The man moved toward the stairs.

"You need not come," said Sir John, holding up his hand.

The butler stood aside and Sir John led the way up to the drawing room.

At the door he paused for a moment. Guy Oscar was at his heels. Then he opened the door rather slowly and motioned gracefully with his left hand that Oscar to pass in before him.

Oscar stepped forward. When he had crossed the threshold Sir John closed the door sharply behind him and turned to go downstairs.

To be continued.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT IN WRECK

Four Cars on Overland Limited Thrown From Track by Broken Rail.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 10.—Seven persons were injured seriously and many more slightly in a wreck which occurred at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night two miles east of Wamego, on the Union Pacific railway. Four cars on the Overland Limited, No. 101, west-bound, were thrown from the track by a broken rail, and the wreckage is strewn over a distance of a quarter of a mile. The train was late, and was running at high speed at the time of the accident. The engine, tender, baggage and mail cars together with the smoker did not leave the track.

The passengers acted with the greatest coolness, although tossed and thrown about, and to this is due to some extent their escape from more serious injury.

They were shut in by broken beams and timbers and dug their way out with much difficulty. The first chair car was buried in the earth to a line even with the windows, and other cars, rolling over after leaving the track, slid along, leaving their trucks behind them, and with seats and fixtures piled up within to add to the difficulty of egress.

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle.

Hon. J. R. Ramsdell, chairman of the executive committee of the national rivers and harbors committee in congress, will arrive Wednesday.

Moline, Ill., and Clinton, Ia., are bidders for the next convention of the association.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

AT JANESVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 15, 1906

Under the Auspices of the National Good Roads Association.

Sessions at Court House Morning and Afternoon

AND AN ILLUSTRATED STEREOPTICON LECTURE

At the Congregational Church Auditorium in the Evening

Meetings Begin at 10 A. M., 2 and 8 O'clock P. M. Respectively.

The officials of the National Good Roads Association, Lecturers and Road Experts, together with leading citizens of Rock County and the State of Wisconsin, will address the convention at its different meetings. Prof. W. H. Moore, President of the National Good Roads Association, will give an illustrated lecture in the evening, and National Organizer Wellington E. Loucks will also address the meetings.

Every person in favor of permanent good roads which can be traveled every day in the year should make it a point to attend. $42000 per year is expended in Rock County for road repairs. A movement which will make permanent improvement out of this outlay will be welcomed by every resident of the county. The crying need of the whole State of Wisconsin is for good roads.

Come and join one of the best moves for public good which has offered itself in recent years.
